How the rich are investing.

Thomas Kaplan

(over $2 billion invested in gold)

"People view gold as emotional, but when they demythologize it, when they look at it for what it is and the opportunity it represents, they're going to say, 'We really should own some of that.' The question will then change to 'Where do we get the gold?'"

John Paulson

(over $4.6 billion invested in gold)

"I view gold as a currency, not a commodity. Its importance as a currency will continue to increase as the major central banks around the world continue to print money."

David Einhorn

($560 million net worth)

"Gold is the money of choice and we would like to have a meaningful amount of our assets denominated in gold. It's the biggest position in the fund" ... "It's the one kind of money Bernanke can't print more of."

Jim Rogers

(net worth of $300 million)

"Gold will be the great investment over the next decade."

M.G. George Muthoot

(net worth $1.1 billion)

"If this business was as easy as it sounds, all my branch managers would be setting up their own gold loan companies."

George Soros

(net worth of $22 billion)

"The U.S. dollar is very weak. Investors are moving to real assets."

Eike Batista

(net worth of $30 billion)

"There is a massive shifting of wealth to new economic powers."

Carl Icahn

(net worth of $12.5 billion)

"The system is not working properly."

Paul Tudor Jones

(net worth of $3.3 billion)

"I have never been a gold bug, it is just an asset that, like everything else in life, has its time and place. And that time is now."

Michael Avery

(holds $3.3 billion of Waddell & Reed fund in gold)

"In 5,000 years of human history, gold has been the currency of choice, the store of value, when humans have called into question their governments' efforts to solve problems by running printing presses and injecting money into the economy."

Global Index has helped me in my wealth growing journey. I started investing in Gold at first, and then moved on to real estate. All in all I have made a lot of money because of them and I am very grateful to their staff for their help.
